Report of the Board of Education.

In accordance with the usual custom we submit the annual report.

When visiting the schools we have been favorably impressed with the progress of the pupils. The teachers have been competent to perform the duties devolving on them and discharged them conscientiously.

We have been pleased to employ as teachers young people of our own town, and, as they have gained confidence, sympathy and good will of their pupils and carefully observed and studied their natures and the influences that affect the formation of their characters, they must have greater success in their work than strangers from out of town of equal ability and education.

We quote the words of the late Rev. George Osgood, the life long friend of the young people and one of the foremost promoters of education in this town :

“In selecting teachers the greatest care must be used. They should be chosen not only because they have the education and ability to teach and govern their school but also for the purity and excellence of their moral characters. The influence of a pure and noble life in the school and in the home will not merely be seen in the conduct of the child but also in the character of the community.”

But it is mostly the character and progress of the scholars that makes up the good or evil reputation of the school, and the advancement depends largely on their being constant at school. No trifling excuse should detain the child from school, as they cannot profit by the teacher's labors. A pupil being absent delays the teachers in their daily routine and compels them to take time that belongs to the class to bring the pupil up to the point the class has gained in his absence.

Again we would impress upon parents the need of their visiting schools. It would encourage the children to do more and better work if they knew their parents were coming in from time to time during the term to watch their advancement. It is a duty we hope will be more strictly attended to in the years to come.

NORTH SCHOOL.

The spring term was taught by Miss Sarah A. Green. Miss Green has taught this school for a number of years and has kept excellent order, while the scholars have been prompt and ready in their lessons and made good progress in their studies.

She resigned at the end of the spring term. We were fortunate in securing the services of Miss Mary J. Prescott, who taught the fall and winter terms.

Miss Prescott is an experienced teacher and her reputation as a good one is well known. Her gentle and unassuming ways have gained the respect and good will of her pupils, and her work has been satisfactory in every respect.

EAST SCHOOL.

Miss Nellie E. Mace, teacher. This was Miss Mace's second year with this school, and she has proved herself a most thorough and popular teacher and has labored faithfully and conscientiously to promote the welfare and best interests of her pupils.

WEST SCHOOL.

The spring term was taught by Miss Abbie M. Moore. Miss Moore deserves much credit for her earnest effort to keep a good school and the general improvement was worthy of commendation. The school was closed three weeks earlier on account of whooping cough. Miss Moore resigned to take a normal course of studies.

The fall and winter terms were taught by Mr. Herbert M. Prescott. Although this was Mr. Prescott's first attempt at teaching, he worked with a tact which was sure to bring success. His gentlemanly manners, united with firmness, secured the love of his pupils and esteem of their parents.

Enumeration of children as made by the Board April, 1899, seventy.
